

Logon 2011 05 09

Short version ...

If you never had a SUS Logon ID, and you would like one, and you are a member, send an email to norm@heimerl.name or use the Contact Us form on this site .. and we will send you an email with a link to a page where you can create your own SUS Logon ID and password ...

If you had a SUS Logon ID, it is either still in existence or, for any number of reasons, it has been deleted. The only way to find out your Logon ID status is to enter your email where indicated and see what happens ... either

.1/ if your Logon ID is still in existence, there will be a message indicating an email is being sent to you .. the email will contain your original Logon ID and a new password for you to use ... you may, of course, change your password at any time ..

>> if your Logon ID is no longer in existence, there will be a message indicating either no Member record was found or no Logon record was found .. please send an email to norm@heimerl.name or use the Contact Us form on this site, telling us the message you received ..we will then either send you an email with a link where you can create your own SUS Logon ID and password or advise you otherwise...

Note ...

We changed passwords in order to simplify the process for you to retrieve your original password with no need for a question/answer or for you to remember your Logon ID or for you to have to use a large scrambled password if you forgot yours .. you can now just enter your email and we will send you your Logon ID and your original password ...

We had to delete a number of current Logon ID's due to several reasons, among them .. you entered duplicate Logon's for yourself and we do not know which one to keep ... you used two different email addresses, one on your membership application and a different one when you entered your Sailor Profile, and we could not match your records based on email ... your membership expired and you were not a member on 5 May ...

Good luck .. email us or use the Contact Us form if you have any problems
